RE: In the matter of the license of Marissa Darlingh
DPI Case No. 22-TL-047

Dear Ms. Darlingh:

The Department of Public Instruction (DPI) has opened an investigation to determine whether to initiate educator license revocation proceedings against you. It has been alleged that you engaged in immoral conduct as defined in Wis. Stat. § 115.31(1)(c).

Allegations

According to a report and video submitted by a community member, you participated in an event in Madison on April 23, 2022 in which you identify yourself as an elementary school counselor. You are on video saying "fuck transgenderism." You are also on video stating you oppose gender identity ideology from entering your school building. You say none of your students will ever transition socially or medically under your "fucking watch." You state you do not believe children should have access to hormones or surgery.

Investigation and Decision:

The Department will investigate to determine if there is probable cause to support allegations of immoral conduct. If DPI determines that there is probable cause to proceed with revocation of your license(s), you will receive a notice including DPI's decision, the facts supporting the decision, and your right to request a hearing to contest the allegations. Alternatively, if DPI does not find probable cause to pursue revocation, you will be notified accordingly, DPI will close the investigation, and no revocation action will be initiated.

During the course of the investigation, DPI will maintain as confidential all files, communications, and other information pertaining to the investigation. Wis. Stat. § 115.31(6)(b); Wis. Admin. Code § PI 34.100(1)(c). During the course of the investigation, these files are not public records subject to inspection under the public records law, Wis. Stat. §§ 19.35 and 19.85.

Opportunity to Respond:

Before DPI makes its decision about whether to initiate license revocation proceedings, you have the right to respond to the allegation and to provide any information that may be relevant to the investigation. You may submit a written response or other documentation you wish DPI to consider directly to me, either via postal mail or email. If you prefer, you may also call me to give a verbal statement.

Your response must be received by 30 days from the date of the letter, in order to assure DPI has the opportunity to fully review it prior to making its final decision on whether to proceed with license revocation.

Also, please be aware that at any point during the investigation, you have the option to voluntarily surrender your license and bring the DPI's investigation of this matter to a close. If you do want to surrender your license, please carefully review the attached surrender agreement and if you agree, please sign the agreement and return it to me in the envelope included.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Arnott
